By volunteering at St Joseph's Hospice
your business can make a positive impact in the local community and support those affected by life-limiting conditions and terminal illness.

Every year St Joseph's Hospice brings comfort, care and support to over 6,500 local people when they need it most. We provide; palliative, nursing and medical care, emotional support, respite care, practical advice, physical and psychological therapies, pastoral care, social and creative activities.

By volunteering your employees' time, skills and experience you can help make us stronger as an organisation, enabling us to reach more individuals facing life-limiting or critical illness. Volunteering is a great opportunity for your business to give back to the local community, whilst also providing your staff with a rewarding team building activity. Every day we see the difference the passion and energy of our volunteers brings to the Hospice and the patients we care for, your team could be a part of it.

Your volunteering will have an incredible impact.

No matter what role your business undertakes your team will be helping us save over a £1 million a year, that's 160,000 hours of care and support we can bring to those who need it.

Some of the benefits of Corporate Volunteering for your business

- Boost the reputation of your business
- Drive employee engagement
- Improve staff retention and recruitment
- Help your employees develop their skills
- Generate new income streams/innovation
- Provide excellent networking opportunities

I work as an Asset Manager for my bank and was amazed at the breadth of work and care provided by the Hospice. I get two days a year to volunteer and give something back to the local community. I helped out, planting and weeding the beautiful gardens, it was great fun and educational. I could see what a difference I and my colleagues could make to patients and their families.

Each year we receive over 1700 CAL

Our Annual running costs are £13.7 million

Thanks for considering volunteering the time and energy of your staff to St Joseph's Hospice. You've made the first step towards making a huge impact in our community. Whether you want to raise money or donate time and skills, we will put your staff right at the heart of our work.

Our corporate volunteering days provide a fantastic opportunity for your teams to

- Help them connect to your local community
- Develop their skills and confidence and get them out of their comfort zone
- Build team spirit; whatever the opportunity, we take a practical and fun approach
- Make a visible impact – our projects are local and they will see the difference they have made.

We aim to make Corporate Volunteering as easy and as seamless as possible, we will take care of everything; supply any training required, materials, refreshments including a hot lunch, and at least two members of St Joseph's Hospice staff to supervise at all times.

As a charity, St Joseph's Hospice proposes a donation of £50 per volunteer, per day, towards our work and to cover the costs of our corporate volunteering events.
